The Wall Syreer Franky.—This ferry will, it is hoped, be in operation next April. The ferry houses on this side are now framed, and workmen employed in roofing them. The plan of the buildings is very convenient, and will present a handsome appearance. There are two slips on this side, and the bridges belonging to them are now mearly completed. The passages to and from the boats are separate, on the plan of the Jersey City ferry, foot of Liberty street. Two of the ferry boats are now built, and are receiving their machinery. The cost of the ferry, when in operation, will amount to about $150,000, for the grant of which the company pay to the corporation of this city an annual rent of $20,000.

CAUTION TO HACKMEN.—One of the many acts of imposition practised upon strangers in this city was brought before the Mayor yesterday, and deaft with in a most exemplary manner. It appears that Richard McNabb, the driver of a hack, was hired by one of the officers of the Hudson River Railroad to convey a lady from the depot to No. 77 Washington street. Instead, however, of conveying his passenger to her destination, he brought her to the other end of Washington street, near the Battery, and there charged her a dollar and compelled her to alight. The woman subsequently made her way to the railroad depot and stated the circumstance. The driver was sought for and brought before Mayor Westervelf, when, on the above facts being deposed to his Honor committed the offender to the Tombs for ten days. We trust this will have a salutary effect upon hack and omnibus drivers, who have historic escaped from similar outrages by the imposition of a fine, which is generally paid from a fund subscribed by the firsternity of "whips;" but our present Mayor prefers making delinquents pay in person instead of purse.
